PRESENTER: Mark Hindman, City Manager

SUMMARY:

The North Richland Hills City Charter was originally adopted in 1964 and was last amended in 2001. In anticipation of calling for a City Charter election in May 2023, the City Council established a Charter Review Task Force in October 2022 to evaluate any proposed amendments to the City Charter and to bring a recommendation back to the City Council on January 9, 2023. The Charter Review Task Force met during the months of November and December and have submitted recommended changes to the City Charter for consideration by City Council. These proposed amendments were presented to the City Council during the Work Sessions on January 9 and 23, 2023. The City Council will make the final determination regarding calling an election to amend the City Charter, and the specific amendments to propose for consideration.

A copy of the 26 recommended amendments and report from the Charter Review Task Force which outlines the proposed changes and the justification for those changes are attached.
