GENERAL DESCRIPTION:

The Litter Index, also called the Community Appearance Index, is a comprehensive assessment of the overall appearance of a community using indicators such as litter, illegal signage, graffiti, and more. It is a tool designed to gather data annually by surveying a random, statistical sample of a city or town.

Keep NRH Beautiful is required to complete a litter index study once a year to continue its membership in Good Standing with Keep America Beautiful. The Neighborhood Services Department has completed the survey and is ready to present the results to the Keep NRH Beautiful Commission.
