City Council had no questions for staff.

2. PRESENTATION AND DISCUSSION REGARDING AMENDMENTS TO CHAPTER 110 OF THE CITY CODE (SUBDIVISION REGULATIONS).

Director of Planning Clayton Comstock provided an overview of staff's approach to amend the city's subdivision regulations. On April 4, 2024, the Planning and Zoning Commission will conduct a public hearing on proposed text revisions to the subdivision regulations. Staff will review the proposed text changes with City Council at the April 8, 2024 work session and bring forward the proposed ordinance for consideration at the April 22, 2024 City Council meeting. The subdivision regulations provides standards and requirements for creation of subdivisions; ensures public and private development is adequately served by public facilities; and the authority for subdivision regulations, when adopted, is granted by the Texas Local Government Code Chapter 212. The recommended amendments includes approval authority for plats; general platting and plat review procedures; addition of a minor plat process; procedures for waivers and modifications; and design criteria for subdivisions. The proposed amendments are the result of substantial changes in state law (2019 and 2023), approval of Proposition "I" of the Charter Amendment Election held on May 6, 2023, and to accommodate a digital process implemented by the city. In preparation for drafting a proposed text ordinance to amend the city's subdivision regulations, staff presented Resolution No. 2023-044 to City Council at their May 17, 2023 meeting. The resolution formally initiated the amendment process for the city's subdivision regulations. The approved resolution provided for the process to include public input and work sessions with industry professionals, the Planning and Zoning Commission and City Council. Staff is accepting public input via the city's website beginning March 1 through March 29, 2024. A copy of the proposed ordinance is available for the public's review via the city's website. Mr. Comstock shared with City Council that most regulations and standards would remain the same. The primary changes are regarding the processes and procedures for plat approvals. The proposed ordinance provides for the final approval by staff for amending plats, minor plats, and replats. The City Council has the final approval for preliminary plats and the Planning and Zoning Commission has the final approval for final plats. Mr. Comstock asked City Council what information they would like staff to provide at the April 8, 2024 work session.

Mayor Trevino asked staff to provide the comments from the Planning and Zoning Commission and developers regarding the proposed subdivision regulations.

Council member Orr asked staff to provide information on the impact to the Development Department.

3. DISCUSS CITY CHARTER ARTICLE VI. POWERS AND DUTIES OF OFFICERS.

Interim City Attorney Cara White informed City Council that she was asked to elaborate on provisions of the City Charter with regard to making inquiries of staff. The City Charter has two provisions, Article VI, Sections 3 and 4. The language in Section 3 of the City Charter numerates the duties of the City Council, one of which is "to inquire into the conduct of any office, department, or agency of the City and make investigation as to municipal affairs." Article VI, Section 4 of the City Charter provides that "except for the purpose of inquiry, the City Council and its members shall deal with the administrative service solely through the City Manager and neither the City Council nor any member thereof shall give orders to any subordinates of the City Manager, either publicly or privately." The North Richland Hills City Charter states the form of government as the Council-Manager government. The City Council sets policy, approves the budget and gives direction to the City Manager. Ms. White stated that the inquiry referenced in Article VI, Section 3 is an inquiry by the City Council as a whole. The City Charter does not provide authority for an individual council member to make inquiries of staff, administrative services, or to give direction to staff. The City Council works through the City Manager. In Section 4, it states that "any Council member violating the provisions of this Section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall cease to be a Council member."

Associate Mayor Pro Tem Vaughn stated that City Council is responsible for making informed decisions and holding people accountable. He referenced a publication by the Texas Municipal League (TML), Handbook for Newly Elected Officials, that city council members are considered employers. Based on Ms. White's comments, a member of the City Council could commit a misdemeanor according to [Article VI] Section 3. He asked how the City Council can hold the city manager accountable if information is provided by the city manager and the City Council is not able to talk to city employees.

Ms. White clarified that a violation of Article VI, Section 4 is a misdemeanor.

Associate Mayor Pro Tem Vaughn asked is it is a misdemeanor to send an email to a member of staff.

Mayor Trevino asked staff to research the questions posed during the discussion and provide an update to City Council.
